So what's it all about?

Our non-surgical Ultrasonic Liposuction makes losing inches from areas of your body such as your belly, hips, arms, legs and back easy! Those stubborn fatty areas of your body you would like to change will become flatter and firmer, in as few as 12 sessions of completely painless Ultrasonic Liposuction. You will be massaged, twice a week with ultrasound by our qualified, experienced consultants, ensuring you are looking and feeling fabulous!

We use Ultrasound technology similar to the kind used to carry out baby scans in hospitals, we even use the same gel. During the painless therapy all you will feel is a nice, warm sensation. This warm sensation is the fat turning to liquid and beginning to drain from your body.

As the Ultrasound passes through the fat cells inside your body it causes them to vibrate against each other, this causes the fat inside to change from a semi-solid state and to become a liquid. Once liquefied, the fat will begin to drain from the cell. The fat then passes through the lymph node system and exits the body through the digestive system in the normal manner. The fat will continue to drain from the body for the next 72 hours. To maximise lymph drainage and achieve the best results we recommend a 10 minute session on our Vibration Plate after each treatment.

Your consultant will chart your success and let you know exactly how many inches you have lost since your last session by measuring your target area before each treatment. We expect clients will need somewhere between 8 – 12 sessions per area to achieve their goals. You should allow 30 minutes per appointment and 3 days should be allowed between treatments.

Moves to save city landmark as listed building

BY ADAM GRINSELL

adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

THE city's most iconic landmark could be a step closer to avoiding the bulldozers, as English Heritage is considering whether The Point should become a listed building.

MK NEWS can reveal that the body, which advises the Government on the historical significance of buildings, is considering the famous red pyramid in Central Milton Keynes.

If it decides The Point should be protected, it will make a recommendation to the Department for Culture, Media and Sport, which will make a final decision on the grading of the former bar and nightclub.

Already two architectural academics and a group dedicated to protecting important 20th century buildings have lobbied English Heritage for The Point to be given listed status.

It is currently under threat of demolition and redevelopment as owners Hammerson are considering building a retail complex in its place. MK NEWS has run a campaign to protect the landmark which opened in 1985.

The Cinema Theatre Association, which works to ensure important cinematic history and architecture is recognised and protected, launched the listing application.

Eva Branscome, an architectural and historic advisor with the group, said: "The Point is the first multiplex cinema built, so it is historically of relevance. Cinema had been declining in the UK, but because of the multiplex people started going again.

"Also architecturally The Point is quite interesting for its pyramid shape. In the past there was a beacon that lit up the sky that you could see from the highway.

"And there's an element of post-modernism that people are increasingly interested in. Buildings about 30 years old can be put under historic protection because of this."

The Twentieth Century Society, a charity which campaigns to save historic buildings, is also calling for The Point to be protected and has written to English Heritage.

It says: "We believe that more options could be explored towards possible conversion, adaptation or a new management approach so a viable future for The Point is found and this special building is not lost."

MK NEWS is writing to English Heritage to support the listing bid. You can add your voice by e-mailing adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk. Or sign our MK NEWS petition. See www.mk-news.co.uk.

New group set up to back UN's work

A NEW branch of the United Nations Association is being set up in the city.

UK-wide, the organisation tries to connect people to the work the UN carries out, explaining how it affects them.

It also gets people involved in debates about how the UN can improve its work.

Based in Silbury Court West in CMK, the new city branch will be set up and administered by the MK Equality Council.

Chairman Navrita Atwal said: "The UNA MK branch will support principles and practices of the UN to promote a safer, fairer and more sustainable world by supporting activities and campaigns in promoting good local and international relations.

"UNA MK is an organisation that thinks locally but acts and works globally."

Mayor of Milton Keynes Catriona Morris will be the group's honorary president.

Ms Atwal is calling for new members to join and support the work of the group.

Ex-director found dead at age of 37

BY ANNA MAUREMOOTOO

anna.mauremootoo@mk-news.co.uk

FORMER director of MK Gallery, Michael Stanley, has died at the age of 37.

Mr Stanley, who held the role from 2004 to 2009, was found dead in a garden in Oxford on Friday afternoon. Police say they were alerted by a member of the public.

Police said the death was being treated as unexplained but believe there are no suspicious circumstances.

Tributes have been paid to Mr Stanley, who was director at Modern Art Oxford at the time of his death.

The current director of MK Gallery, Anthony Spira, said: "Mike was incredibly talented and in his five years in Milton Keynes he developed a rich and adventurous artistic programme.

"He forged exciting connections, from the local to the international, and was a great ambassador for the city. He was extremely popular and will be missed enormously.

"Our thoughts and feelings go out to his family, friends and colleagues."

During his time in Milton Keynes he was responsible for two Turner Prize-nominated exhibitions, including 'Yeah... you, baby you!' by Phil Collins and Cathy Wilkes in 2008.

He curated the widely-acclaimed survey exhibition of work by Marcel Broodthaers and exhibitions of work by the late James Lee Byars in Milton Keynes and in Venice in 2009.

He also introduced new strands of programming, including off-site projects by Johanna Billing, Wolfgang Weileder, Langlands & Bell and Hayley Newman and DRMM Architects.

Will Cousins, chairman of MK Gallery, said: "During his time as director Mike took the gallery from strength to strength. He opened our eyes to new creative worlds and his passion for Milton Keynes helped us see our city in a new light.

"His boundless energy and infectious enthusiasm will be very much missed."

Fencer Gabi joins Olympic celebration

PARALYMPIC fencer Gabi Down has been confirmed for the council's Olympic celebratory event on Saturday.

The 14-year-old Oakgrove pupil will now be the city's only Olympic or Paralympic representative at the event – last week MK NEWS reported that gold medal winning long jumper Greg Rutherford had confirmed that he will not be attending the event at stadiummk.

Milton Keynes Council and its partners have organised a number of sporting activities for people to enjoy for free between midday and 3pm. A large part of the outside parking area of the stadium will be cordoned off to accommodate the activities.

Gabi will be joining members of the public in trying out a number of the sporting activities on offer.

Those who wish to stay on to watch the football can take advantage of the special family day match ticket prices of just £10 adults and £1 under 18s.

Milton Keynes mayor Catriona Morris said: "We will be honouring our local gamesmakers, torch bearers and others who played such a key role."

"Who knows, the sporting day may well help us to produce more future Olympians and Paralympians. We want to inspire a generation."

TALENT: James Collins. Above: With his band MITSOTU on X Factor

Singer: Oh no, we've got Louis!

BY ANNA MAUREMOOTOO
anna.mauremootoo@mk-news.co.uk

A TALENTED singer from Milton Keynes has proven he's got the X Factor after earning a spot at the judges' houses on the hit TV talent show.

James Collins, who is originally from Dunster Court, Furzton, and his band MITSOTU will be seen by millions of TV viewers on Saturday night when they appear at judge Louis Walsh's Los Angeles home.

James said: "We're absolutely ecstatic. We weren't keen on going on X Factor at first because it's got a bit of stigma attached to it but we decided that it couldn't do us any harm."

"After Gary Barlow came back stage and told everyone to 'bring it' we just went out there and gave it everything we've got and for him to come out with such positive remarks was just amazing."

After an impressive audition at bootcamp – watched by 8.2 million viewers – the trio were given the exciting news that they would be going to the judges' houses.

But then came the revelation that Louis

GURU: Judge Louis Walsh

Walsh, former Westlife manager, would be their mentor. James said: "We were in two minds when we found out. Everyone's a bit disappointed when they get him!"

"We were hoping for Gary or Nicole because she's been in a band, but once we met him we were like, actually, this guy knows his stuff."

Since MITSOTU's appearance their online fan base has grown by thousands.

James said: "We call our fans the MITSOTU army. We were trending on Twitter over the weekend and we've had support from all over the world."

"I've still got family in Milton Keynes – there's been some new additions to the family, so they're our youngest fans."

Council must act to improve footpaths

SIR – I do feel that the council should repair footpaths that are becoming increasingly dangerous around Milton Keynes.

I have had two falls in recent months in different locations due to the state of the footpaths and I have heard of so many people having tripping incidents. The first fall I had was at the end of June when I was on my way back to the shopping centre after visiting the Job Centre. I had to have help from a passing couple to get back on my feet and my left knee was grazed, my right knee was also hurt and I twisted my ankle. My second accident occurred on my way to Lloyds Bank. Again a kind couple helped me. I twisted my ankle which became swollen and was limping for a while. Staff in the bank were very kind.

I was told of a lady who recently fell over and got a black eye, fortunately for her, her glasses were not broken.

I do believe that the state of the pavements on estates such as Fishermead is becoming extremely dangerous.

Supermarket buildings should be converted

SIR – I agree with the letter from Alan Senior, ('Demolition would be a bridge too far for city', MK LETTERS, September 19).

May I point out that the old Sainsbury's outlet is still vacant and Waitrose is leaving the Food Centre. This means that there are two huge premises that could be converted, without all the disruption a new build requires.

And, the local market would remain, without the cost of removal of market stalls and their re-establishment 300 yards away.

R E Lee
Conniburrow

We should all take care on Redway cycle routes

SIR – I would like to add my voice to the people asking cyclists to take care around Willen Lake.

I would ask all users, not only of Willen Lake but the Redways as a whole, to read the Redway Code. Then everyone can enjoy the Redways knowing that pedestrians aren't going to just randomly weave from side to side, and cyclists aren't going to fly round a blind corner on the wrong side.

A few simple rules, easy to follow by everyone, could make the Redways a lot happier and safer for all that use them.

The Redway code can be read at www.miltonkeynes.gov.uk/transportr/displayarticle.asp?id=61976

In brief, pedestrians should keep to the right and not walk more than two abreast and wear bright or reflective clothing at night.

Cyclists should keep to the left, no more than two abreast and ring a bell when approaching pedestrians and use lights when it's dark.

And Horse riders, unless it's part of the bridledways, shouldn't be on the Redways.

Forget 'cults', it's time to give Turing his due

SIR – I am troubled by the way your newspaper reported Alderman Roger Bristow's protest against the city's forthcoming tributes to Alan Turing ('Ex-mayor's fears over Turing cult', MK Letters, September 19).

While it will be unjust if Tommy Flowers and other Bletchley Park heroes are forgotten, Adam Grinsell's article perpetuates a further injustice by referring to Turing only as a 'wartime codebreaker'.

It is a great shame to see the father of computer science remembered for just one among his remarkable achievements.

Like many homosexuals of his generation and before, Turing was treated appallingly by the world to which he had given so much. Now let's give him his due and have no scaremongering talk of 'cults'.

Unfair to limit planning application discussions

SIR – Conspiracy theorists will be interested to hear that MK Council has put a gagging order on citizens objecting to planning applications.

Previously, a good number of residents could speak to the planning committee for several minutes each. Now, just three people can speak for three minutes. So that's nine minutes to shape the fate of your neighbourhood. Or, in the case of the centre:mk's controversial planning application, nine minutes to speak up for Secklow Gate, the market, a listed building and our famous grid road system!

You may try to gag us at council meetings but we can always speak out at the polls!

Let's work together to make Fairways better

SIR – May I express my gratitude to the people of the Fairways estate in West Bletchley, who elected me to West Bletchley Council.

I stood as an independent 'Bletchley First' candidate against the sitting Labour MK councillor in a 'David v Goliath' battle against the money and power of the Labour Party machine. I'm just an ordinary pensioner who wants to make a positive contribution to my local area, but I had no hope of matching the Labour Party's money. I couldn't begin to compete with their glossy colour leaflets.

But I think I've shown that the majority of ordinary residents do not believe that party politics has any place on parish councils, which should work in the best interests of the community. In this spirit, I am inviting my Labour opponent to work alongside me for the residents of Fairways so that, together, we can make West Bletchley a better place to live.

Better scrutiny might have cut our rail costs

SIR – Despite Mr Valdyanathan's long analysis of the timetable situation on the WCML, ('Letter was on the right track regarding trains', MK Letters, September 19) there is nothing in it that anyone taking an interest in the subject doesn't already know!

He says, alluding to more stops here, 'I do not understand how is it possible without affecting other operators'.

Both Virgin and First Group do understand, as it's a feature of both franchise bids.

The intriguing part of his letter is his admission that he was a public member of Network Rail for six years. In that case he's got a lot to answer for! What were he and his colleagues doing for six years?

The public members were appointed as a sop to the sceptical public to oversee the workings of the company, and we had a lot to be sceptical about. If any effort has been made it has been a failure.

According to the McNulty report Network rail costs the taxpayer roughly 30 per cent more than it should and 30 per cent more than equivalent organisations abroad.

Despite billions being spent upgrading the line and years of passenger disruption, the infrastructure is so unreliable that Virgin has officially complained.

What were Mr. Valdyanathan and co. doing about it all these years?

Perhaps, greater oversight by the public members would have resulted in a less expensive and a more efficient railway. A standard class single to travel at peak times from here to Manchester is £96.50! That is verging on criminal!

The BR fares when Virgin took over were peak single £31 and a super saver off peak any day but Friday, turn up and go £23.50 return. Even allowing for inflation, that's some increase!

Another 15 years of Virgin and we'll have to take out a mortgage to go to Rugby!

Michael Weinberg
Giffard Park

Don't forget the work of others at Bletchley

SIR – I agree with Roger Bristow's concern about the so-called Turing cult at Bletchley Park. Turing did wonderful things but there are three other aspects of Bletchley's wartime contribution which are often neglected.

Firstly, the Lorentz codes used for communications at the highest level of the Nazi regime, sent on a machine more complex than the Enigma. These codes were broken by Bill Tutte and others. This has been called one of the greatest intellectual achievements of the second world war.

Secondly, building a machine (an electronic computer) that could break these Lorentz codes quickly depended upon the genius and dedication of Tommy Flowers and his team at the GPO Research Establishment, Dollis Hill. By early 1944 the first Colossus machines were being constructed at Bletchley with the help of the GPO designers. Their major contribution to the war was to decrypt and explain German perceptions and preparations for the allied invasion of Europe. Two vital inputs to Eisenhower's decision to 'go' on 6th June, 1944, were the weather forecast and the latest Colossus decrypts from Bletchley Park.

Thirdly, by D-Day, 9,000 people worked at Bletchley Park. They worked eight-hour shifts, round the clock, seven days a week. Above all, they worked as an organisation and all successful organisations should reflect credit on their managers and leaders such as Commander Denniston and his successor Edward Travis.

All praise to Alan Turing who led a brilliant and ultimately tragic life, but many others made their contributions.

Giant cow on the moo-ve for £155

A COLOSSAL cow was at the centre of an internet bidding war yesterday.

The giant MK Cow was bought on ebay for £155 by a bidder who swooped in with the winning amount just seconds before the auction closed.

This one-off piece, which functions as a display cabinet, was built by MK Cow Products and has been on show in Waterstone's in Midsummer Place for the past year.

Creator Mark Cain said: "It took me a whole summer to make it in my spare time. It's certainly the largest cow I've ever made but we do have some strange requests come through."

Milton Keynes has faced some stick for its concrete cows. But the city has embraced the quirky characters and now MK Cow Products even makes mini versions as trophies for Milton Keynes' annual dragon boat race.

Rivals in talks on help for homeless

BY ADAM GRINSELL

adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

TALKS were held yesterday between two politically-opposed housing bosses to try to get homeless families into empty properties.

Currently there are 96 applicants waiting for home in MK, which includes families, living in bed and breakfast accommodation while they wait to be housed in the city.

Meanwhile around 50 new-build properties are standing empty as councillors cannot resolve how much rent should be charged.

Yesterday, Conservative cabinet member for housing Peter Geary met with Labour councillor Brian White, who chairs Milton Keynes Council's planning committee, to try to find a resolution to the problem.

Developers who want to build homes in Milton Keynes are required to provide a certain number for the social housing sector, which will quite often be sold to housing associations to rent out.

Previously, tenants have been charged around 50 per cent of the market rate under 'social' rent rules, but following a new Government 'affordable' rent initiative, the Conservatives want to increase this to around 80 per cent.

This, Cllr Geary says, is the only option that is viable for house-builders, adding that if the social rent scheme continues in Milton Keynes developers will look to other cities where a higher rent is charged. If we don't get this resolved, we don't get the people we are looking after housed," said Cllr Geary. "We have to find a resolution or we will be in trouble."

"This is really important for the whole of the Milton Keynes, and it's only political squabbling that's preventing 96 households getting into housing."

But Cllr White said taxpayers and those on benefits should not be made to pay to help commercial developers.

He said: "We shouldn't make the poorest people pay an increase from £80 to £155. Peter Geary is trying to blame the opposition, but shifting the blame is just not acceptable."

Check on www.mk-news.co.uk to discover how the talks ended.

Man accused of jewels raid

A 24-YEAR-OLD man has been charged with the burglary of a jewellery store in Woburn Sands.

William Hughes, of Cotefield Drive, Leighton Buzzard, was charged with burglary when he appeared at Milton Keynes Magistrates' Court on Monday.

He was remanded in custody until October 2.

Electric buses on the grid

ELECTRIC buses will soon be taking to the roads of Milton Keynes.

Yesterday eight organisations signed an agreement to remove diesel vehicles from one of the main city routes by the summer of next year.

The number 7 route, which runs from Bletchley to Wolverton, will see eight new electric buses replace the current diesel-run models, removing around 500 tonnes of CO2 emissions per year as well as 45 tonnes of other noxious gases.

The new buses will be able to recharge their batteries wirelessly through the day, which means they will be capable of carrying the same loads as a diesel bus.

The route operates seven days a week, and currently transports more than 775,000 passengers a year for a total of 450,000 miles.

Fears over plan to relocate Waitrose

BY ADAM GRINSELL

adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

CONCERNS are growing after supermarket Waitrose announced it will be relocating its CMK store.

Currently located in the Food Centre in Midsummer Boulevard, smaller businesses on the site fear the supermarket's move to Oakgrove could impact on their sales.

Harry Li, owner of Yong Yu Chinese Supermarket, said: "It's concerning to hear about this. I think that if Waitrose and the market go then this shopping centre will go downhill."

It's a view echoed by some customers.

Dawn Green, who shops at Waitrose, said: "I think it's inevitable that other shops in the Food Hall will suffer. Most of them are quite specialised. If I'm shopping at Waitrose I pop into them for a browse but I won't go over there if Waitrose goes."

But not everybody is preparing for the worst. Shipu Ahmed, owner of As-Salaami, said: "I don't think it will matter to my shop because people will come to the city centre to shop whether Waitrose is here or not."

The Food Centre is owned by Hermes & Prupim who also own thecentre:mk, and pressure group Xplain are questioning why retail bosses have let Waitrose go.

Linda Inoki, leader of Xplain, said: "It's a real loss for the city. What on earth are these people at thecentre:mk playing at? They're supposed to be retail experts and yet they let this golden fish slip out of their net."

"However, the centre:mk have no excuses now for not building Primark in the defunct Food Centre."

"It's sheer nonsense to say people won't walk over the road to visit Primark and the only place for it is Market Square, and the public know it."

DRENCHED: Youngsters messing around in the water

100 homes hit by burst water main

GARDENS were flooded on Friday after a water main burst in a busy town street.

Firefighters were called to the flood on Wolverton Road in Newport Pagnell in the early afternoon after the pipe burst, to pump away the water while engineers attempted to fix the problem.

Around 100 houses were left without water until the leak was fixed eight hours after it began, but not before residents' gardens took the brunt of the flood.

An Anglian Water spokesman said they would carry out any work required to return the gardens to their original state.

Public views sought over artwork for the MK Rose

THE latest in a series of public consultation dates on a large and ambitious public artwork is being held on Friday.

The MK Rose, to be constructed in Campbell Park by spring next year, will consist of more than 100 pillars which will be engraved with dates selected by the public and which commemorate or celebrate local, national and world events.

The team behind the artwork will be holding a workshop at MK Museum on Friday from 10amnoon, as well as at The Parks Trust Pavilion on Thursday, October 4, from 1pm-3.30pm and the City Discovery Centre the day after from 1pm-3.30pm.

The final decision as to what is included on the pillars will be made by an independent panel later in the year.

If you are unable to attend a workshop, the MK Rose Engagement Team would like to receive any suggestions for the pillars. Submit any suggestions to arts@milton-keynes.gov.uk.

Victim threatened with 'handgun'

A MAN was threatened with what he believed was a handgun in an attempted robbery last week.

Shortly after 5pm on Tuesday, a 29-year-old was leaving a cafe on Farthing Grove in Netherfield when he was approached by two men who asked him for his car keys.

He was threatened with what he thought was a gun. The men got into a blue Audi A4 and when the victim tried to stop them he was hit on the head. They then ran off on foot.

One of the men is black, 6ft, of a heavy build, in his mid 30s with a shaven head. The other is also black, but with lighter skin, well built and 5ft 10ins tall.

Naan too pleased over VAT on curry

BY ADAM GRINSELL

adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

INDIAN restaurant owners from across the city have banded together to lobby the Government after feeling the heat from the rise in VAT.

They are calling for a cut in the tax to help small businesses and boost family budgets, and launched a campaign at VerandahTalk in Wolverton yesterday.

Mohammed Khan, owner of the Rajdouth restaurant in Emerson Valley, said: "It is tough at the moment for restaurants as many people have less money and are not able to eat out as often."

"A lot of restaurants are worried about how to cope with the situation. We have had to deal with VAT going up from 17.5 per cent to 20 per cent but we can't put prices up as that would affect our customers."

The VAT cut campaign is being supported by Milton Keynes Labour Parliamentary spokesman Andrew Pakes, who met with the delegation of restaurateurs yesterday.

His party wants to see a reverse to 17.5 per cent VAT.

He said: "Britain loves a curry, so it was great to meet local restaurant owners to hear about how they are coping with the recession.

Andrew Pakes with VAT campaigners

"We have a resilient economy in the city but a VAT cut would help provide an immediate boost for the high street."

The restaurant owners are now planning to write to the Prime Minister and chancellor George Osborne.

Taj Raja, owner of VerandahTalk, said: "Across Europe governments have made tax concessions for restaurants, hotels and tourist attractions. We need to do the same here."

"A sensible reduction would make a huge difference. Customers are being squeezed from all directions and do not have the disposable income they had in better times."

"VAT at the current rate is not helping matters."

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Billy Harley feels that it's all about service. "Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 5 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps.

Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole."

Cloudy2Clear service the Bedford, Milton Keynes & Leighton Buzzard areas and Billy is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. "The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated."

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Billy a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

SHINING LIGHTS: Members of the Milton Keynes branch of Theatretrain on stage at the Royal Albert Hall

Music pupils bond

BY ANNA MAUREMOTOO
anna.mauremootoo@mk-news.co.uk

STUDENTS from Milton Keynes had their moment in the spotlight when they performed a James Bond-inspired show at the Royal Albert Hall.

The gala performance united 70 youngsters from the Milton Keynes branch of Theatretrain with more than 1,000 other students from the performing arts company.

'Licence to Thrill' was a homage to secret agent 007 which told the story of arch criminal Sebastian Strake who tried to take over the money markets of the world and cause them to crash.

A 22-piece orchestra played a medley of different hits including 'Licence to Thrill' and Shirley Bassey's 'Goldfinger'.

The 600-strong choir sang and moved in time, soloists shone, while hundreds of other performers told the story in unison.

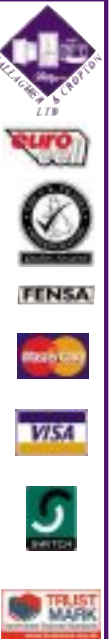

Emma Meads, director of Theatretrain, said: "I am so very proud of my students. Six months of hard work, commitment and learning to work as a team paid off as they shone during their performance."

Students have been working on the project during classes at Shenley Brook End School.

'Licence to Thrill' was part of the year-long Theatretrain 20th birthday celebrations and finished with a standing ovation.

Get Milton Keynes thinking campaign

Join in the Stephen Perse Foundation's Get Milton Keynes Thinking campaign. Every week, for four weeks, we'll be posing a philosophical question for you to answer here in the MK News. The questions will be similar to those asked of the children at the Stephen Perse Foundation's schools in Cambridge as part of our unique curriculum. They are designed to exercise the mind in exploring possible solutions to something that has no right or wrong answer but can be viewed from many different perspectives. The results are always interesting and intriguing and sometimes very entertaining!

You can see some of our children at work in a short film on the MK News website www.mk-news.co.uk

This week's question is:
Is your life your own?

RA If you'd like to take part, please give this some thought and then post your response on the MK News homepage: www.mk-news.co.uk

We look forward to hearing what you think and to publishing a selection of the best responses.

Homes plan is boost for jobs

BY ADAM GRINSELL

adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

THIRTY-THREE new homes will soon be springing up at a development that will bring a jobs boost to the city.

Housebuilder Barratt Homes has announced that it will start work on a new phase in Old Wolverton during the next year, which will create more than 60 jobs.

The project follows an increase in sales of 60 per cent for the company to £58million across the region.

Sue Blackman, sales director for Barratt Homes, said: "Buyer confidence is steadily improving and we're seeing encouraging demand for our homes."

"The fact that we are starting new sites is also good news for local sub-contractors and the supply chain. We continue to highly value the strong relationships we have with our partners."

Ms Blackman believes the new-build homes will give local house-hunters an easier way to buy, due to a Government initiative.

"One of the key issues for anyone buying a home continues to be getting the right mortgage," she said.

"NewBuy, the 95 per cent mortgage backed by Government, is only available on new-build homes, which means customers, both first time buyers and home movers, only need a five per cent deposit."

The range of homes will form a new phase at the housebuilder's existing Waterways development in Old Wolverton.

Daredevils in leap of faith to help the hospital

A TEAM of eight teenagers took to the skies to support the maternity ward at Milton Keynes Hospital, raising £4,750.

Joe Reynolds, 17, from Old Farm Park, encouraged seven of his friends to take part in the 13,000ft tandem skydive at Hinton Airfield in Brackley, to raise funds for the ward they were all born in.

The hospital is now calling for more fundraisers.

'Haunted' club says we can't give up ghost!

£35,000 needed to survive

BY ANNA MAUREM00T00
anna.maurem00t00@mk-news.co.uk

MEMBERS of a working men's club are fighting to save part of Milton Keynes' history.

Wolverton Central Working Men's Club – more commonly known as the Top Club – has been in the town for more than one hundred years, but is now on the brink of closure and needs to raise £35,000 to survive.

It is feared that if a generous investor doesn't come forward the club will close in a matter of weeks.

Committee member Andy Heywood said: "It's a social hub, somewhere families can come and let their children run around without worrying – you can't do that in a pub."

The club is trying to shake off its image of old men sat around in flat caps and is promoting the venue as a place for live music and entertainment.

Mr Heywood said: "People think working men's clubs are a bit sexist but we've been working hard on pushing a new image of a family-focused community social club for all ages with no restrictions."

Trustee Lee Hart added: "It's even changed since I was a kid.

"There were areas that we couldn't go into but it's not like that anymore."

Originally built for workers by the London and North West Railway, many of the members were introduced to the club by their parents and grandparents.

Mr Heywood said: "We have three and four generations here.

"I bought my daughter here and now she brings her children.

"The club is steeped in history – we even have ghosts in the cellar. There's things that can't be explained."

Wolverton Top Club has already battled one threat of closure in 2007 when it was experiencing losses of £30,000, but it weathered the storm and came out even stronger.

Mr Heywood said: "We got a new committee and we managed to swing from losses to turning over a profit."

ROCKIN' ROLE: Resident Joyce Bielby, aged 91, with Bupa's Susan Ross, and showbiz lookalikes Elvis Presley and Frank Sinatra

Bebop-a-Bupa she's my baby

NURSING home residents are preparing to bring musical eras and legends to life.

Those living at Highclere in Downs Barn are getting ready to take part in Musical Moments, a Bupa initiative which is aimed at promoting the therapeutic benefits music offers older people in terms of increasing wellbeing and engagement.

The Bupa care home is hosting a 1950s and 60s themed musical party on Friday, October 12, from 2pm.

Cheryl Edwards, care home manager, said: "It doesn't matter if you have a favourite musical legend or just love listening to music.

"We're going to get everyone involved in celebrating how powerful music is in lifting spirits, getting minds dancing and toes tapping."

It's the 'green' house created from bottles

BY ANNA MAUREMOOTOO

anna.mauremootoo@mk-news.co.uk

A NEW home has been found for a special community GREEN House made of plastic bottles.

Volunteers from Long Meadow School in Shenley Brook End worked hard relocating and rebuilding the structure, which was originally created by artist Paul Smith as part of the MK Festival Fringe.

David Morley, deputy head teacher, said: "The children have been so excited about having it on their playground. We have also received lots of great comments from parents too."

The GREEN House was made from more than 10,000 plastic bottles donated by schools and the public.

Now it can be enjoyed by pupils after being uprooted from its temporary home on the green behind the Theatre District.

If you are interested in having your own GREEN House project created from reclaimed plastic bottles at your school or community project, contact Festive Road project manager, Helen Wright at helen@festiveroad.org.uk.

Marshalling the troupes

BY ADAM GRINSELL
adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

THUNDERING rock anthem Smoke on the Water capped a night of tribute and celebration on Saturday as a whole host of legendary rockers turned up the volume to honour Marshall Amps.

Deep Purple bassist Glenn Hughes joined other famous names such as Yngwie Malmsteen, Doug Aldrich and Corey Taylor on stage at Wembley arena for the 50th anniversary celebrations of the iconic brand.

More than 7,000 people attended the gig, which also paid tribute to company founder Jim Marshall, who died in April.

Concert organiser Chris George said: "Jim would have loved it, and there were some really nice tributes to him on the night, including a video montage at the end."

The Bletchley company's musical extravaganza has been more than a year in the making, and Chris said it could not have been received any better.

"When you do something on this scale you wonder what the reaction will be.

"But people have said it's the best concert they have ever been to. Come the day we had an amazing night - it went without a hitch."

And it's no wonder, as the production team was the same that had worked on the Olympics closing ceremonies. That, and the quality of musicians on show.

"The artists had a free reign on what they were going to play," added Chris. "And Smoke on the Water was a great finale."

Diamond couples have double date

BY ADAM GRINSELL

adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

SIXTY was the magic number last week as two couples living in the same sheltered housing scheme both celebrated their diamond wedding anniversaries on the same day.

Peter and Grace Billups, both 81, and 87-year-old Eddie Hook and his wife Jean, 80, all received a congratulations card from the Queen, who herself celebrated a special 60th this year.

The two couples, who enjoyed a celebratory dinner with friends on Thursday at Fulwell Court in Great Linford, realised that they shared the same anniversary during a trip to the theatre some years ago.

The Billups first met when they sat next to each other at the cinema. They were watching The Beast With Five Fingers, and in a particularly scary moment Grace grabbed Peter's hand and the duo have never looked back.

Peter, a retired education officer, said: "The key to staying together this long is I do as I'm told! But also you need to be happy – you have to really be a friend to each other, and make each other happy."

Eddie, a former warehouse supervisor and Jean, a retired housing warden, have two children and five grandchildren. They met when they were both working in the same factory in Enfield.

"She was 19 and I was 26 when we met," said Eddie. "We were making cables for tanks and aircraft radios at the time."

Jean has some clear ideas about what makes a long and happy marriage relationship.

She said: "It's all about give and take – you have your arguments, and then just get on with it."

And the coincidences don't stop at wedding anniversaries, as Peter and Jean even have the same birthday – April 23.

Grace added: "When we all realised we had the same anniversary we were very surprised."

"It's very unusual, but very nice."

Fundraising year ends over coffee

BY ADAM GRINSELL

adam.grinsell@mk-news.co.uk

A FORMER cancer patient is coming to the end of a year-long drive to raise money for the charity that supported her through her illness – and is on target to reach a goal of £3,500.

Mum-of-two Eleanor Harwood, 42, from Stony Stratford, launched her campaign with a Macmillan Big Coffee Morning in her home town, and is now planning to end the year in the same way this Saturday.

The coffee morning heralds the end of a series of money-making events including a six-mile walk with her six-year-old daughter, Pippa. Eleanor also took part in a 40-kilometre sponsored bike ride through Woburn Abbey.

Eleanor said: "My family have really enjoyed doing things with me and have been supportive.

"If we had more time we would have done more, but I had to train for the cycling, and I've been working and volunteering for Macmillan in that time as well.

"I would just like to say thank you to everyone who has supported me with all of this."

Eleanor was told she had bowel cancer at the age of just 40, and

CHARITY BOOST: Eleanor Harwood aims to celebrate fundraising success on Saturday found the support of Macmillan invaluable.

"It was quite a shocker to be told. I hadn't expected that as a 40-years-old," she said. "Macmillan gave me friendly support, and there is a nice online community. I kept a blog on their website during my cancer experience.

"They offer different types of support such as financial and nursing."

So far Eleanor has raised just over £2,500, and is now hoping that her last event will raise the final £1,000 to reach her target.

Her coffee morning takes place at York House on London Road in Stony Stratford, from 10am to 2.30pm.

To sponsor her, see www.justgiving.com/year-for-macmillan.

For details of another huge Big Coffee Morning this week, see page 37.

Louie is having

BY JUDY RILEY

editor@mk-news.co.uk

IT'S panto season! Oh, no it's not!

It's ok, don't panic, there's no need to get the Brussels sprouts on just yet. Christmas may have sneaked up on Milton Keynes Theatre last week (it's behind you!) but there's still time to stuff the turkey and buy your tickets for what looks like being the jolliest MK pantomime in years.

Louie Spence could have been born to play in panto. He wasn't – he was actually born in north London and grew up on a council estate in Essex. But even as a child he was preparing for his big, walk-down curtain call.

"I've always been like this," he says, with reference to his gloriously outrageous campness.

"And I'm very content – and I always was very happy – with who I am.

"When the other boys were playing football I'd be cartwheeling to school or doing a backspin dressed in lycra tights. I had lots of straight friends and we got on great – we were all kids together and it didn't make a difference.

"Because I was accepted for who

I am, I never had to hide it. Unfortunately, some people feel repressed and it's awful for them. But others have written to me to say that because I'm so open about who I am, I've been an inspiration to them."

All those cartwheels and backspins have helped Louie stay incredibly fit. Last weekend, he was part of Richard Branson's celebrity team competing in the Virgin Active London Triathlon in aid of charity.

Meeting up with him the day before his first event he admitted to being terrified, but he has lost weight in training for it and now, feeling fitter than ever, he is raring to get started on rehearsals for Cinderella.

Not that he will be much in evidence for the first few days. Because he has played the part of Dandini, Prince Charming's servant and sidekick, Louie already knows the script by heart (I declined to mention that comedian Kev Orkian, who is playing Buttons, had already confessed to writing a whole Santa's sackful of new gags for this production).

"When we did this show in Manchester last year it broke all box office records. It's got a fab set and costumes, two great dance numbers, as well as hip-hop and street, plus, new for this year, a big tap number at the end."

Then, confidentially, he confesses: "I'm not your normal Dandini. I'm flamboyant and loud. I wanted to be Cinderella - I wanted to marry the prince! So there's a lot of sub-text rolling about."

"And I love a mingle with the audience! Everyone loves a mingle! This is a great show - it's a combination of the cast, the choreography and glamour!"

Typing up an interview with Louie Spence puts the safety of the exclamation mark key at grave risk but that's just how he talks.

If his performance as Dandini is half as over the top and entertaining as 20 minutes of general conversation with him, we're all in for a treat this Christmas.

Ladders add another

FOR the last two years, deep in muddy pits within a site earmarked for the continued expansion of the city, a team of archaeologists has been painstakingly looking for anything of historical value.

Then in June, the history experts from Wardell Armstrong Archaeology uncovered a large, circular pit, seven metres in diameter by 2.5m deep.

As they dug down they discovered two Iron Age timber ladders, 2.5m in length, at the base of a heavily waterlogged pit.

The two notched log ladders, expected to date from 800BC to 100AD, are thought to be the largest of their kind ever discovered, and were used to excavate clay and other materials from the deep hole.

Nearby they also found an estimated 20 bodies, in the same burial pit, along with iron knives, blades and beads.

As the bones were buried in a multi-period pit, from the Iron Age, Romano British and Saxon dates, it suggests the site may have been focused on an earlier Bronze Age mound, or barrow, which was considered a sacred place.

That could indicate people might have been buried on this site as long ago as 2000BC.

Helen Martin-Bacon, associate director at Wardell Armstrong Archaeology, said: "The remains will now go back to be analysed at our Carlisle office, to get information about the people they belong to, such as sex, age, height, and any diseases they might have had."

"They were found within a circular ditch, the type of which would have gone around the outside of a Bronze Age barrow, which was a sacred burial mound."

THE discovery of two perfectly preserved Iron Age ladders and a Saxon burial site over the summer has been heralded as a 'nationally significant' discovery. Reporter ADAM GRINSELL investigates and looks at other recent archaeological finds

The two finds were completely unexpected, but Ms Martin-Bacon said the work was commissioned by developer Gallagher Estates as the area has previously had several discoveries of historical worth, so it was expected that something would be found.

In January human remains were discovered by workers for developer Taylor Wimpey at their site on Saxon Street near Stantonbury. Milton Keynes Council's archaeologist Monkston in September 2000.

The fragment of pottery allowed the hoard to be dated to the British Middle to Late Bronze Age, around 1150 to 800BC.

Weighing in at more than two kilos, this is one of the biggest concentrations of Bronze Age gold known from Britain and gives an indication of some wealth.

One torc is decorated with incised lines, except for a plain strip along the rear face, and with more complex groove decoration near the terminals. The other is only decorated near the terminals, with a band of close-set grooves.

Three of the gold bracelets and two of the torcs are in gallery 51 at the British Museum, while the pottery fragment is on display at the museum's Blythe House.

So what of the historical significance of the log ladders found in June?

Their monetary value is negligible, but their heritage and historical value to Milton Keynes is priceless.

Very few examples of the tools have ever been found in Britain due to the fragile nature of wood over the passage of time, but it appears these ladders were intact as the pit was waterlogged, which said the bones are currently being dated, and that the results are expected within the next few weeks.

Then of course there was the Milton Keynes Hoard, pictured above. Worth an estimated £290,000, the cache of two gold torcs, three bracelets and a tiny fragment of bronze rod found within an undecorated pottery bowl was discovered by two metal detector enthusiasts in rung to city's history

provided very good conditions for their preservation.

They have been taken to York Archaeological Trust for conservation, which is expected to take around 18 months. When that is complete they will be returned to the city for display here.

Ms Martin-Bacon said: "It just goes to show that, while people think Milton Keynes has no history, landscapes in the area are actually very ancient. This part of Bucks has previously shown up important architectural sites.

"The ladders confirm people have lived in the area for thousands of years, more than likely doing exactly what we do now, working to earn a living and provide for our families."

TOP NOTCH: Ladder is perfectly preserved

AN ANTI-BULLYING campaigner is returning to the school where he was picked on, to train 'Anti-Bullying Pros'.

Twenty-four-year-old Alex Holmes, originally from Stony Stratford, now runs a nationwide peer-led Anti-Bullying Programme for the Princess Diana Award.

Kingsbrook School in Deanshanger is hosting an event on October 23 to equip young people with the skills, ideas and inspiration to keep school a safe and happy place.

Mr Holmes, pictured below, said: "While at Kingsbrook I started my campaign. It's great that this work is continuing and great that more schools in MK and beyond will also benefit from this programme."

Schools can get involved with the event by sending an e-mail to antibullying@diana-award.org.uk, calling 0207 921 4574 or visiting www.diana-award.org.uk.

New era as Sir Herbert Leon Academy opens

PUPILS celebrated the reopening of their school as an academy with a special ceremony.

Sir Herbert Leon Academy, formally known as Leon School and Sports College, in the Lakes Estate welcomed guests including the mayor of Milton Keynes, Catriona Morris for the occasion last Wednesday.

Cllr Morris said: "Leon reflects Milton Keynes. Like Milton Keynes people who know it love it."

"Milton Keynes in the last few years has moved on, people look to Milton Keynes to see how we are doing and I can see the same happening here."

The academy aims to become an 'outstanding' school after a recent OFSTED report described it as 'a good school with outstanding features'.

MP for Milton Keynes South Iain Stewart also attended the ceremony and unveiled the opening plaque along with former councillor Jan Lloyd and Cllr Morris.

Mr Stewart said: "I hope students become the best that they can."

IT'S time to line the streets of Woburn Sands for Olympic long jump champion Greg Rutherford's open-top bus parade.

The town he calls home will be pulling out all the stops to make sure that this is a homecoming to remember, and you can do your part too.

At 4.30pm on Friday, a vintage bus will take Greg and his guests from Frosts Garden Centre in Newport Road, via Station Road and Theydon Avenue, to The Leys and on to the Mowbray Green (Hardwick Place).

Here, at about 4.45pm, after an official welcome by Woburn Sands Town Mayor Councillor David Hopkins, a celebratory plaque and special installation will be unveiled by Greg himself.

This permanent tribute has been part sponsored by Serco and consists of a gold strip which is 8.31-metres long – the distance which won Greg the gold

The idea is that people will be able to see exactly how far he jumped, and with each metre measured off you can see how far you can manage to leap too.

At about 5pm, Greg will continue on the open top bus via Hardwick Road, the High Street and Station Road to The Summerlin Centre on Station Road, where there will be a short drinks reception for invited guests.

It is then hoped that Greg will be able to sign some autographs.

All are welcome to line the route waving flags, and the Town Council are pleased to include in its celebrations those in the local community who were Olympic and/or Paralympics Games Makers or workers at Locog.

Visitors should be aware that the roads on the route will be closed for the duration of the celebrations, and parking spaces in the town are expected to fill up fast.

Mr Hopkins said: "This is a once in a lifetime occasion – a real honour for Woburn Sands and a chance for the town to express its pride and delight in Greg's success. "We hope for good weather and for a large turn out from anyone who would like to join us."

Greg Rutherford OLYMPIC GOLD

THE last few weeks must have been something of a blur for Olympic long jump champion Greg Rutherford. Since his golden leap in London on August 4, there is no doubt that the city boy's life has changed forever.

He took his run-up, jumped an incredible 8.31-metres and flew into the pages of the history books. As MK NEWS wrote at the time, Greg Rutherford is an Olympic champion and gold medallist and he always will be. On Super Saturday, he wrote a story which can never be erased. Almost immediately, the Ginger Wizard was transformed into a celebrity who everybody wanted a piece of. Appearances were booked on Chris Moyles, Celebrity Juice, Soccer AM and a huge number of other shows. Greg himself joked that you couldn't turn on the television without seeing him, but exactly two weeks after the 25-year-old told this newspaper that the fame was something that he'd always wanted. As a result his sudden popularity is something which is richly deserved, and as one of the nicest blokes in sport nobody can deny him his moment in the spotlight.

After a career which has been continually blighted by injury, he stepped up to the mark and produced a performance of real quality when it really mattered, on the grandest stage of all. Hopefully, there will be many more major championship medals to come but for now it is time for Milton Keynes to celebrate its famous son.

This bus parade, organised by Woburn Sands Town Council, is our chance to say thank you. Throughout the national media, Greg's success has been described as a 'surprise' or a 'shock' but it wasn't for us.

We knew that although poster athletes Jessica Ennis and Mo Farah were competing on the same night the real action was taking place at the long jump.

We knew, too, that he was building up to the Olympics in good shape, and that he had the joint furthest long jump distance in the world this year to his name.

We knew, and happily Greg proved us right on that magical evening.

Now, with his season at an end, it's time to show our appreciation.

A presidential election is brewing in America and here to cash in on the upcoming media circus is The Campaign, a new comedy starring Will Ferrell and Zach Galifianakis.

When Ferrell's involved you have a fair idea from the start what the film is going to be like, but that doesn't really matter because, for fans of the genre at least, his style of funny acting is the gift that just keeps on giving.

In The Campaign, political satire is very much on the agenda as two less than qualified candidates battle for a seat in congress.

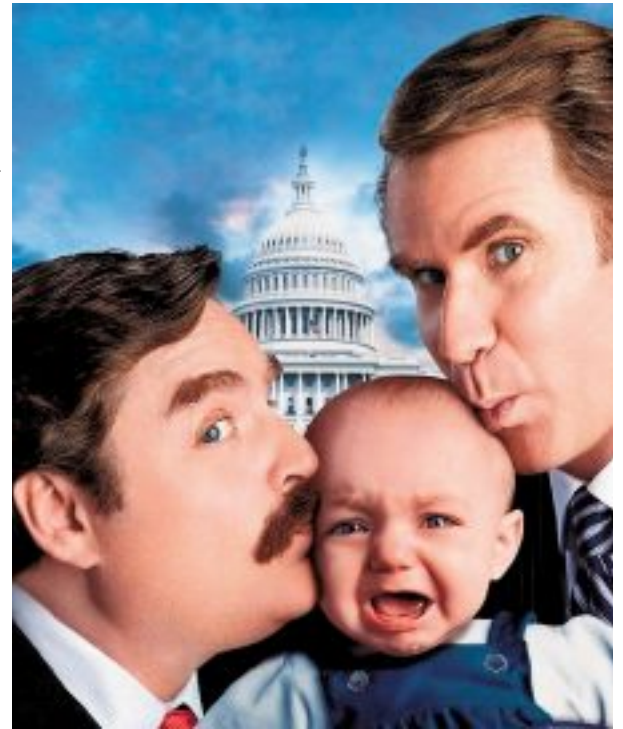

The current holder of the seat is Ferrell's character Cam Brady, an idiot who has managed to hold onto his position for four elections as he has run unopposed.

This changes though when a political gaffe sees Marty Huggins (Galifianakis) throw his hat into the ring.

The campaign begins but it soon becomes clear that not everybody will be playing fair, as dirty tricks and corruption become the order of the day.

When all is said and done, The Campaign is a definite success which really highlights the comedic side of politics ahead of the race for the White House in November.

As with all Ferrell films this isn't a movie that you should take too seriously, so don't expect any detailed analysis about how the United States is run.

However, some of the political lampooning really is excellent, and there are a few cleverly made points which would probably have Mr Obama shuffling uncomfortably in his seat at the White House.

The characters are instantly likeable too, with Ferrell again showing his class as one of the great funnymen.

A film which is a lot more fun than staying up through the night to see who has won across the pond.

gallery highlights

THE Scratch Night at MK Gallery tomorrow focuses on failure – but don't let that put you off.

Artist Aaron Head introduces a new film and talk which is all about things going wrong.

Edited entirely from amateur online footage, the film features over 500 clips of things such as broken clocks, bad violin recitals, glitching TVs, drunken karaoke and broken lights.

The event starts at 7pm and is completely free, and won't be like anything you've seen before.

This week's Friday Night Film is Fur: An imaginary Portrait of Diane Arbus, starring Nicole Kidman.

Arbus, a famed American photographer, is torn between a bizarre relationship with a neighbour suffering from hypertrichosis (abnormal hair growth) and life with her husband.

Tickets are £5 or £3 for concessions, and include a free drink if you book in advance on 01908 676 900. The film starts at 6.30pm.

arrestingsound

HOTLY tipped quartet, Jim Lockey and the Solemn Sun are coming to The Craufurd Arms.

The band-named as one of NME's 'bands to watch' – deliver their blend of alternative county and rock with passion and vigor.

The bands visceral approach to live shows creates an innovative and arresting sound; crammed with hook-filled soaring harmonies and passionately honest lyrics.

Last year they performed at numerous festivals such as the Big Chill, Beautiful Days, Wychwood and Y-Not, including a packed performance as headliners on the second stage at 2000trees.

Jim Lockey and the Solemn Sun are at The Craufurd Arms on Friday September 28 at 7.30pm.

Tickets are priced at £5 from www.thecraufurdarms.com.

Night in

Columnist

THIS week, Nicky Saunders, education team co-ordinator at the Parks Trust, explains how the charity reaches out to children.

MY JOB involves encouraging schools to use local parks for education, and helping teachers to structure lessons outdoors.

I love working with the public and urging them to explore and cherish the parks.

The best part of my job is working outside in such beautiful parks and being able to get my enthusiasm for the environment over to everyone else.

I love working with people and seeing kids react to new discoveries.

In particular I always look forward to giving them a really memorable experience.

On a typical day I will start preparing for an outdoor lesson.

These normally last a couple of hours, and I have to spend some time clearing up afterwards.

I normally spend the afternoon dealing with bookings and corresponding with teachers and schools, as well as meeting with staff and volunteers to make sure they have everything they need.

The Parks Trust works with more than 90 primary schools and every year 5,000 children attend our education sessions to learn about their local environment.

We like to treat the parks as a great big classroom with a wide range of fun, curriculum-linked activities, games and seasonal walks.

slimchance

SLIM Chance - the band Ronnie Lane formed when he left the Faces - is treading the boards again.

Original members Steve Simpson, Charlie Hart, Steve Bingham, Alun

Davies and Colin Davey are playing Ronnie's songs in the spirit of the band's previous incarnations. They aim to celebrate Ronnie's later music, taking the show to festivals and theatres here and abroad.

The band is joined by Geraint Watkins on organ and piano and the show features favourites like How Come, The Poacher, Ooh La La, Kushty Rye and Debris.

Also listen out for other Lane classics, such as Anywhere for Anywhere and One for the Road.

Tickets are £15 for the show on Friday (September 28). Book online at www.stables.org or call the box office on 01908 280800.

kickoff

WIVES and girlfriends (and maybe some husbands and boyfriends too) should probably wave goodbye to their other halves for a few months, as FIFA 13 will hit the shelves on Friday.

After a tough battle with rival series Pro Evolution Soccer, FIFA has emerged as the computer game football king and the release of a new instalment is always greeted with great anticipation.

Most football fans will never fulfill their dreams of taking to the pitch in the Premier League, so this is the closest they can get.

This year, along with standard improvements like better graphics and updated teams and players, there are an assortment of exciting new features.

Most notable is the introduction of a first touch system which means your players won't automatically bring down balls perfectly, there can be a few heavy touches.

This will take time to master but it makes things more realistic and that is where FIFA shines, it's so close to the actual action that sometimes you might think you are really out on the turf.

The game is great fun whether you are defending or attacking, so don't try and switch it on for just a couple of games - you'll be there for most of the night.

It's as exciting as ever and as usual the game is most fun in multiplayer mode, as who doesn't love smashing five or so past your mates?

Without doubt the best footy game in the business.

coffeemorning

This week Mick reflects on John Terry's retirement...

JOHN Terry announced his retirement from international football this week.

I've met him a few times, at training grounds and down at Chelsea when I've been down there. He's a very likable fellow, a good guy.

His decision will be contentious for a lot of people I'm sure, but it is his decision and you have to respect that.

It seems obvious that he has an issue with the FA, which probably had a bearing on why he decided to call it a day.

But he probably also wants to prolong his career with Chelsea, who look like they are going to have a successful season, so maybe he's looking at it that way as well.

I think they will definitely be challenging for trophies again and I wish him all the best with what he does.

At the end of the day we don't know how he has come to the decision so you just have to respect it. I'm sure he made up his mind for the right reasons.

I would say he is the best English defender playing at the moment.

If John Terry's fit, and playing as well as he can play, for the majority of people I think he would be first choice.

He's done remarkably well with Chelsea over the years, and he's been a good player for England too, so he'll be a loss I think.

There's not a great deal of depth in that position for England in terms of players so he will be missed.

A few youngsters are coming through and now we may see if they are up to it, as the only way you find out if young players are any good is if you play them.

Potentially, everyone is a good player and I'm sure Roy Hodgson, who has blooded a few youngsters, will find out for himself by giving them an opportunity.

HOCKEY

THE season began for MK Ladies' 2nds and 3rds on Saturday, with both clubs finding themselves alongside each other in the same division – the Three Counties League Division One.

There was a good start for the 2nds, who beat Reading Ladies 3A 2-1, but the 3rds went down 3-0 to Gerrards Cross.

All other teams at the club get their league campaigns under way this weekend.

RUGBY UNION

OLNEY exited the Bucks Cup at the first round stage after they let a 12-0 lead slip against Aylesbury, eventually going down 14-12.

Two tries looked to have put Olney in command at Doffs Field, but Aylesbury hit back with a pair of their own and crucially, both of their tries were converted.

The second half of the game was scoreless as Olney played at least 70 per cent of the second half in Aylesbury territory without being able to find an all-important breakthrough.

There was a chance to claim a dramatic victory late on when Olney were awarded a penalty, but the 40 metre kick, taken 15 metres in from the right touch line, was sent off target.

Meanwhile, Bletchley were beaten 41-5 by Salisbury in the South West 1 East.

LOCAL FOOTBALL

NEWPORT Pagnell Town saw off Sleaford Town 2-0 to maintain their unbeaten start in the United Counties Premier Division.

In Division One, Olney went down 2-1 to Rushden and Higham United.

Elsewhere, Stony Stratford Town lost 2-0 to Cranfield United, and New Bradwell St Peter suffered a 7-0 reverse at home to Cockfosters.

Old Bradwell lost 2-1 to Broxbourne Borough in Division Two, and Wolverton went down 2-0 to Luton based outfit The 61 FC.

Marching orders: Lee Cattermole is sent off after leaving Adam Chicksen in a heap

Ten man Black Cats teach Dons a lesson in finishing

League so far this season following Saturday's 1-1 draw at West Ham United, with the Cup providing their only victory.

The manager still opted to make five changes from Saturday, but it was hardly what could be termed a "weakened" team.

As for the Dons, Robinson was forced into making one change with goalkeeper Ian McLoughlin handed his first start for the club due to regular stopper David Martin falling ill.

Elsewhere, Chicksen, Daniel Powell and former Newcastle man Alan Smith were also given recalls to the starting 11.

Republic of Ireland U21 international McLoughlin was not given much of a chance to settle after being called into action to save Stephane Sessegnon's shot from 25 yards following a good early spell of pressure from Sunderland in the opening five minutes.

He also did well to parry away an effort from Louis Saha in the 17th minute after the ball had fallen to the Frenchman from Shaun Williams' sliding tackle.

Dons had some lively spells of their own though; Luke

Chadwick dragged a low shot from the edge of the box just wide in the opening ten minutes, while Stephen Gleeson also whistled one past the post after Dean Bowditch's outswinging corner from the right had fallen to him on 21 minutes.

The hosts then found themselves with the numerical advantage just after the half hour mark.

Sunderland skipper Cattermole went lunging in on Chicksen, leaving the Dons man needing treatment, with referee Stuart Attwell deeming the challenge worthy of a red card.

Cattermole was distraught at the decision, but the modern game leaves little leeway for officials.

Sensing their opportunity, Dons started to press forward more.

However, Powell's decision to pull the ball back for Chadwick rather than go it alone after sprinting clear five minutes before the interval saw his manager fly into a bottle throwing fit of rage. With the shot looking to be on, it was easy to understand why.

The first half closed with the sides still goalless, but immediately after the restart it was MK that looked the more likely to score.

The best chance of this period saw Darren Potter force a fine save from Keiren Westwood, but that bright start was quickly snuffed out when Sunderland took the lead in the 50th minute.

Antony Kay had given away a free kick around 25 yards out after impeding McClean, and Gardner duly punished that transgression by sumptuously placing the ball into the top corner with a curling shot that completely bamboozled McLoughlin.

The Dons were clearly rattled, but went back on the offensive and saw Gleeson curl one wide from just outside the box.

Robinson then opted to freshen things up just after the hour, making a double substitution and bringing on Ryan Lowe and Charlie Macdonald for Messrs Chadwick and Smith respectively.

Lowe did go close to grabbing an equaliser eight minutes later, only to see his first time shot go into the side netting.

At the other end, Sunderland had nearly gone further ahead from another free kick, although this time it was McClean that took it and his effort was just off target.

However, the lively Ireland international essentially settled the contest nine minutes from time when he burst down the left wing and then drilled a low strike past McLoughlin.

The Dons kept battling right until the end, with MacDonald scooping a shot just over from close range in the dying minutes, yet this was Sunderland's night.

Theirs and O'Neill's composure had helped win the day, while Dons now turn their attention to the visit of Crewe Alexandra to stadiummk in Saturday's League One encounter.

Dons: McLoughlin; Chicksen, Kay, Williams, Lewington (captain); Powell (O'Shea 77), Gleeson, Potter, Chadwick (Lowe 62), Bowditch; Smith (Macdonald 62)

Sunderland: Westwood; Gardner, Meyler, Kilgallon, Rose; Colback, Cattermole, Vaughan, McClean; Saha, Sessegnon (Johnson 84).

CYCLING

Ian again claims plaudits at worlds

IAN Stannard again put in the leg work for his team mates at Sunday's World Championship Road Race, but the city rider also allowed himself a shot at glory.

Former Team Keynes man Stannard has developed a reputation for his tireless pedalling in aid of his colleagues, and that was evident again in Limburg as he worked hard to protect fellow Brit Jonathan Tiernan-Locke.

However, the 25-year-old was also part of a two-man breakaway, along with American Andrew Talansky, on the penultimate climb of the Bemeleberg.

This break was reeled in but British champion Stannard still had the energy to shield Tiernan-Locke heading into the final ascent of the race, allowing the specialist climber to come home for an impressive 19th place finish in his senior world championships debut.

The hilly Dutch course suited the abilities of Tiernan-Locke, who finished just five seconds behind eventual winner Philippe Gilbert. Stannard finished back in 36th on a good day for the future of British cycling.

Earlier, outgoing champion Mark Cavendish, who had declared that he had little chance on the hilly course, rode aggressively to allow team mates to conserve their energy.

The Isle of Man rider then withdrew with 110km to go through exhaustion, with Bradley Wiggins and Chris Froome also failing to finish.

TOURING CARS

No points for Nash

JAMES Nash could not find any points as the World Touring Cars season continued in the United States this weekend.

The Newport Pagnell driver was forced to retire from the first race but was then 17th in the second at the Sonoma Speedway in California.

Nash had made it up to eighth in race one but problems with his car then pushed him back down the order.

He eventually pulled in and a blocked filter was determined to be the cause of the issues he faced.

His withdrawal meant he had to start race two from 20th on the grid, and the Ford Focus driver, racing for Team Aon, then managed to gain three places.

FORMULA ONE

Seb back in title hunt with victory

On track: Sebastian Vettel coasts to victory in Singapore

SEBASTIAN Vettel took full advantage of Lewis Hamilton's misfortune to clinch the Singapore Grand Prix on Sunday, putting himself firmly back in the hunt for a third straight drivers' title in the process.

McLaren's Hamilton looked to be cruising ahead of the German but a gearbox failure ended his race on lap 23. Red Bull Racing man Vettel was then able to pounce under the lights.

Vettel was so dominant last year but this was only his second race win of the year, and only the fourth in total for the Tilbrook based team.

He is now 29 points behind Fernando Alonso in second place in the overall standings, with 150 points left up for grabs in the remaining six races of the year.

Jenson Button, second in Singapore, has now said that the battle for the title is a straight shootout between Vettel and Alonso, who came third.

Hamilton's retirement has probably put the British star out of contention, as he is 52 points back in fourth place, and third placed Kimi Raikkonen is only seven points better off.

After the race world champion Vettel was investigated for an incident which followed a safety car restart in which he appeared to slow, nearly causing Button to hit him from behind.

However, the stewards decided not to take any action and Vettel survived to take his victory, his second straight triumph on the Singapore streets.

Team mate Mark Webber wasn't so lucky as he received a drive by penalty for passing Kamui Kobayashi off the track, which resulted in a 20 second deduction and a subsequent finish down in 11th position.

In truth, it was a procession for Vettel who demonstrated great pace throughout the day.

Hamilton had been in control, but the German was barely troubled after his retirement as he cruised to a vital win.

Vettel said: "This is one of the toughest races all year, it's two hours, the circuit is a killer and the race seems to go on forever. "Obviously we benefited from Lewis' retirement, but the pace was there, so I'm incredibly happy and proud."

"It's an incredible weekend for all of us. We have a lot of races left, we just have to use the momentum and keep pushing."

Red Bull maintained their strangle hold on the constructors' championship with the win, which they now lead by 37 points over McLaren.

The season now moves to Japan on October 7.

SPORTS SHORTS

TABLE TENNIS

OLYMPIAN Andrew Baggaley was unable to inspire his England team to a European Championship qualifying victory over Romania on Tuesday night.

The city player lost his match in Hull as the home team slipped to a 3-1 defeat.

Twenty-nine-year-old Baggaley arrived at the table with England already 1-0 down in the tie, after Liam Pitchford lost a five-game thriller to Hunor Szocs. But he was unable to stop the rot as Ovidiu Ionescu strolled to a confident 3-0 win to put the Romanians in firm control.

Baggaley was quickly 7-3 behind in the first game, which he went on to lose 11-5, and in the second he fell further into the mire when he went 8-4 down.

A superb top-spin rally helped the city man back to 8-7, giving him momentum, but Ionescu strung together a quick three point run to take the game.

In the third, Baggaley suffered from another slow start as he slipped to 6-1 behind, allowing the Romanian to stroll over the finishing line.

This meant that Danny Read had to win his match with Adrian Dodean to keep the tie alive, and he duly did so with a five game win, but Ionescu then settled the tie with a 3-1 win over Pitchford.

The defeat is a disappointing one for England, who were ranked higher than their opponents in the world standings.

It means that England have a victory and a defeat from their opening two qualifiers, after Baggaley recorded a victory during a 3-1 triumph in Slovakia. The team are aiming for the European Championships in Austria next year.

SWIMMING

EMMA Joyce, 17, of City of Milton Keynes Swim Club, ended her open water season with a first place finish in her category at Brogborough Lake.

One hundred and seventy-seven swimmers took part in a one mile swim and both wetsuit and non-wetsuit competitors were set off in one wave. Emma finished as the first junior/lady in a time of 16 minutes, 11 seconds, seven seconds ahead of her nearest challenger.

She finished sixth overall, but once again, with the water temperature a very chilly 14 degrees, Emma was the first non-wetsuit finisher to complete the course.

BMX

TWENTY-TWO riders from the Milton Keynes BMX club qualified for this year's British Championships held at Cheddar.

There were five club members who ended the competition ranked at number one in the East Anglia region Frankie Leahy (female six years and under), Jack Leahy (male nine years), Luke Mendes (male ten years), Nick Hill (masters), and Spencer Cremin (cruiser 40 to 44 years).

After a tough process of racing through three motos, quarter finals and semi finals, four riders successfully made the national finals – Mendes, Lee Block, Hill and Izzy Ferrada.

will fall into place." Lightning travel to Basingstoke on Saturday, before they host the same side on Sunday, with a 5.30pm face-off at Planet Ice.

Both games are dual league/cup contests, and Lightning will be hoping to replicate the form which saw Manchester swept aside on Saturday.

Phoenix started strongly but new Lightning hot shot Adam Calder opened the scoring.

Within seven minutes, Leigh Jamieson was left unmarked with more than enough time and space to score Lightning's second, unassisted, and 60 seconds later he turned provider for Calder to bag his second.

Phoenix hit back just 16 seconds later through Robert Schnabel, but Lightning skipper Adam Carr added a fourth just 24 seconds into the second period, before a swift double from Jamieson stretched the lead still further.

Further strikes from Blaz Emersic and Grant McPherson completed the rout, as Alex Mettam repeatedly frustrated Manchester at the other end.

The match was also notable for a large scrap in the second period, which led to six players being sent to the penalty box on roughing penalties.

Lightning enforcer Wiggins was heavily involved, and had earlier fought with Schnabel on a highly charged evening.

Against Guildford, Lightning started in disappointing fashion and fell 5-0 behind, before goals from Emersic and Carr briefly threatened a comeback.

However, any momentum was crushed by a rink floodlight failure which interrupted the game in the third period.

Early Bison return for new signings

FOUR of MK Lightning's new signings face an early return to their former stomping ground this weekend, as Nick Poole's side gear up for a double header with Basingstoke Bison.

Net minder Stephen Wall, as well as Nick Chinn, Chris Wiggins and Dan Harris, all moved to Milton Keynes from the Hampshire club this summer.

Lightning will be hoping for a maximum points haul after a Jekyll and Hyde style start to this year's ice hockey season, which saw a fabulous 8-2 home win over Manchester Phoenix followed up with a 5-2 defeat to last year's English Premier League champions Guildford Flames.

Having several former Bison skaters in the ranks may not be as big an advantage as some may expect though, as Basingstoke have made significant changes to their line-up after a disappointing sixth placed finish last time out.

Most notable is a change in coach, with former Slough man Doug Sheppard replacing retiring veteran Steve Moria.

A number of other changes to the playing squad have also been made, and because of this new defenceman Harris thinks his old side will be something of an unknown prospect.

He said: "They've had a lot of player changes this year, and there's a new coach as well, so it's a bit early to say what affect all that will have."

"In goal they've now got Stevie Lyle, and he's got so much experience that it will probably make life more difficult for us."

"But I'm really looking forward to playing against Basingstoke. It'll be good to see some of the guys again."

Harris, who is originally from Newcastle said that he has enjoyed his time as a Lightning player so far, a team that has also welcomed a number of new recruits to the set-up.

"It's going really well so far," the 23-year-old said.

"They're a great bunch of lads, they've made me feel really welcome, and the supporters have been brilliant."

"We learned a lot during the pre-season games. There are quite a few new players this season, it just needs a little bit of time for everyone to gel, then everything

Dons exit to clinical Cats

BY MARC BAZELEY

DONS 0 SUNDERLAND 2 (CAPITAL ONE CUP THIRD ROUND)

THEY used to say that former England cricket captain Mike Brearley had a degree in people, and perhaps the same can be applied to Martin O'Neill.

As the man who spends some of his spare time in the public gallery at courts due to his fascination with watching juries studiously stalked the technical area, he seemed to emanate a calmness that transferred to his Sunderland side that, despite being down to ten men, kept a spirited Dons side at bay in last night's Capital One Cup tie.

It did not look as if this would be the case when Lee Cattermole was dismissed in the first half for his reckless tackle on Adam Chicksen though.

Dons had threatened on numerous occasions and with their opponents a man down they looked set to press home that advantage.

It was not to be for Karl Robinson's men though. Craig Gardener's brilliant free kick and a fine solo goal from James McLean ended their hopes of progressing to round four for the first time, but it was not for the lack of trying.

This is a competition that Black Cats boss O'Neill has tasted success in both as a player and manager.

He was part of the Nottingham Forest teams that lifted the trophy in 1978 and 1979, while his Leicester City sides acquired something of a reputation as League Cup specialists during his time in charge after winning it twice and finishing once as runners-up between 1997 and 2000.

His current side have a somewhat less glittering history in the tournament. Indeed, the nearest that Sunderland have come to winning it was in 1985 when they finished as runners-up to Norwich City in their sole final appearance to date.

And while this was the first meeting of these two sides in the League Cup, the Wearsiders had faced MK's previous incarnation of Wimbledon back in 1999 - on that occasion going down 3-2 after extra time thanks to Carl Cort's hat-trick.

O'Neill's men have also yet to register a win in the Premier

Who: Leslie Carey, 39

Where: The Slimline Clinic Nuneaton

When: 6 Weeks, June 2011

What Happened: Leslie had Ultrasonic Liposuction on her stomach and inner thigh but only lost $\frac{3}{4}$ inch after 1st visit. She then lost 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ inches after her 2nd visit, before losing 16 inches in total over the course of her therapy.

How: We focussed Ultrasonic Liposuction on Leslie's inner thigh and stomach once a week (1 session on each area) for 6 weeks. After her 1st session Leslie ate take away food on 4 of the evenings, as well as drinking several pints of beer most nights. This resulted in slow progress. However, after only losing $\frac{3}{4}$ inch in week 1, Leslie decided to drink a little more moderately, ate more balanced meals and as a result she then lost 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ inches between her 2nd & 3rd treatments. Leslie then resolved to adjust her lifestyle, she started eating & drinking in moderation, while making an effort to be more active generally. Leslie went on to lose 16 inches in total over her course which took in 12 sessions each on her stomach & inner thighs.

Why was Ultrasonic Liposuction Needed: Leslie has a demanding job as a director of an engineering firm, this lead to Leslie having a poor diet of take away food & beer, with little activity in her daily life due to a lack of time. Leslie arrived for her 1st session as a size 16, standing at 5' 6" tall

Where are they now: After achieving her target size and shape Leslie had lost 16 inches from her stomach and inner thigh. After completing her course and armed with her improved lifestyle and body shape Leslie felt inspired to take up Exercise! She began walking 3 evenings a week and therefore needed no more sessions to maintain her new size and shape!

The science behind losing Inches & feeling great!

Non-Surgical Ultrasonic Liposuction from The Slimline Clinic makes losing weight easy, especially from stubborn fatty areas like your belly, hips, arms and legs. Better still, it's fast, 100% pain free and can allow you to reach your ideal size in as few as 12 sessions.

Good vibrations

The treatment works using ultrasonic technology similar to that used in ultrasound scanning machines. The frequency of the sound wave targets fat cells, causing them to turn into a liquefied state. This liquid fat then drains away via the body's lymphatic system over the next 72 hours leaving treated areas with a flatter and firmer appearance.

The difference between The Slimline Clinic's Non-Surgical Ultrasonic Liposuction and surgical ultrasonic liposuction is we allow the body to naturally filter the liquid fat instead of making incisions in the patient and using a tool to suck the fat out which can cause pain, bruising and scars.

100% pain free

Our treatments are 100% pain free – in fact you will only feel a pleasant warming sensation at the ultrasound gets to work on your unwanted fat cells.
